Description

SpillSmart Oil Only Pads – Light Weight provide a cost-effective solution for managing oil and hydrocarbon spills across a wide range of environments.

Manufactured from hydrophobic polypropylene, the pads absorb oil-based liquids while actively repelling water, allowing them to float and remove hydrocarbons from water surfaces. This makes them suitable for both land-based and marine applications.

Designed for high-usage environments, these pads are often referred to as contractor-grade, offering reliable absorbency performance at a lower cost per unit. Their lightweight construction makes them easy to handle, deploy and replace during frequent spill response tasks.

Despite their lighter weight, the pads still deliver strong absorbency performance, capable of absorbing significant volumes of hydrocarbons while maintaining ease of use and efficiency.

White in colour for easy identification, they allow users to quickly recognise oil-only applications and monitor saturation levels during use.
